MARQUETTE - Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan has designated Marquette General Family Medicine in Marquette, Marquette General Family Medicine - Negaunee, Marquette General Family Medicine - Lakewood in Harvey, Marquette General Pediatric Specialists in Marquette and Upper Great Lakes Family Health Center in Gwinn as Patient-Centered Medical Home practices for 20112012.

This means that they are among a select group of primary care clinics in Michigan that are improving health care quality by adopting the PCMH model of care.

The Blues have designated nearly 2,500 doctors - representing roughly 770 primary care practices - as PCMH practices. The program is the largest of its kind in the country and has the potential to affect millions of Michigan residents.

With the PCMH model, primary care physicians lead care teams that bring intensive focus to their patients' individual health goals and needs.
