State Gets Millions For Community Health Centers

AP Reporting
Michigan is getting nearly 19 million dollars in federal funds for three community health centers. The funding announced Friday by the US Department of Health and Human Services is from the Affordable Care Act. Cherry Street Services in Grand Rapids is getting nearly $6 million, the Center for Family Health in Jackson is getting $3.4 million and the Family Health Center in Kalamazoo is getting more than $9.3 million. The money is part of $727 million being given out nationwide to upgrade and expand community health centers.
